

I.T.O

I truly hope this is over. Subaru has been knocked down twice – and they should stay down. But if they take another swing at me, I will have no choice but to make them kiss the floor for a third time. As my dad used to say, "you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink."

If they do feel the urge to continue this, then this document will be updated with exactly what I mean by I.T.O.

Look Subaru – how is this going? Was your failed libel complaint worth this updated website? Do you really think I.T.O. will go any better? I see the future, and you don't even understand the past. Comprehendo?
